Lent – What's it all about?

Wednesday next Feb 22nd is Ash Wednesday and marks the beginning of the season of Lent. In the Ireland of the past, Lent was a somewhat sombre and gloomy season. Dances were forbidden, marriages couldn't take place, and an air of penance was all around. We all have bad habits that we want to work on, and the 40 days of Lent afford us the opportunity to do just that. In my own family I remember my Mother's attempts to give up smoking for Lent and how her efforts would make her short tempered and irritable; thankfully she didn't last the course and frazzled nerves were soothed on all fronts. She did however go on to make less demanding sacrifices! One of the beneficial side effects of Lent is often the shedding of a few pounds, when an effort is made to forego the sugary treats that are all too tempting. At about age 10, I gave up sugar in my tea and almost 60 years later the habit has endured.

Giving up something for Lent, or fasting in some sense, has an honourable history in the life of the church. But aside from any beneficial side-effects, it has an inherent spiritual value. It is one of the 'heavy armaments' of the Christian life, the others being prayer and almsgiving. These three practices have been described as the three pillars of Lent, and the practice of all or any of them can be a powerful aid to spiritual growth.

Fasting is hard for any of us, food is enjoyable and is one of the great pleasures in life. Using fasting as a means of self-control affirms what the Lord himself said in Matthew 4:4 "Man does not live on bread alone". One of the great fathers of the church, St. John Chrysostom wrote, "Fasting of the body is food for the soul"

Almsgiving takes the focus off self and our own needs, and invites us to look to the poor and the needy in a spirit of generosity. In our consumerist society, almsgiving is a challenge to step off the merry-go-round of sometimes thoughtless spending, and to use our money for the good of the most-needy. The little Trocaire boxes that we are encouraged to fill during Lent provide the where-with-all to Trocaire to make a real difference in the lives of the poor. It also strengthens our bonds as a human family with responsibilities towards one another. To give to somebody who has nothing to give in return, brings its own blessings. "Whoever cares for the poor lends to the Lord, who will pay back the sum in full" (Prov. 19:17).

Prayer deepens and enriches our relationship with God and is central to the life of any Christian person. "Jesus told his disciples a parable to show them that they should always pray and not give up." Luke 18:1. Lent invites us to renew our prayer life and to spend time with the Lord. That can be a quiet visit to a church, five minutes of reflection on a passage of scripture, or being part of the Liturgical prayer of the church at Mass. Time spent with the Lord is never time wasted.

So come along on Ash Wednesday and receive the outward sign of your desire to change; but remember it is just a sign; there is no magic in the ashes, they are no more than an expression of a willingness to change – to change for the better. With God's help may that become a reality for all of us.

Philip Curran, St. Mary's & St. Patrick's Lucan

Booking a Package Holiday

Travel organisers must give you information about the type of holiday you are buying. Travel organisers can be a tour operator or an offline travel agency.

Your travel organiser must tell you up front if you are buying a package holiday or a linked travel arrangement – explained below. To check what type of holiday you have booked, read the information you got before you booked or call your travel organiser.

Types of Package Holidays

Package holidays can be ready-made or customised packages. A package holiday is sold at a total or inclusive price, must last for more than 24 hours, or include an overnight stay. It does not matter if you are asked to pay separately for different parts of the package (such as, the flight or transport), your holiday is still a 'package holiday'.

Ready-made package holidays

Ready-made package holidays have at least two of the following included:

Transport - like flights, a cruise, train or coach journeys
Accommodation

Other tourist services – for example tours, excursions, guides or tickets for concerts or theme parks

Car rental

Customised Packages

A customised package (sometimes called a dynamic packages) is where you choose the different parts of your holiday – therefore, it is not a ready-made holiday. You buy the customised package online through a website, or offline from a travel agent or call centre. All the parts you buy must relate to the same trip or holiday.

A customised package must include either
A single contract for all services or

Separate contracts with different travel service providers, where:

All of the contracts are bought from a single point of sale

All services are selected before you agree to pay
There is a total or inclusive price

Example of protections when you have a customised package

Maria booked a flight to France directly on the website of an airline. When booking, she was offered accommodation at a hotel. She chose to book both the flight and the hotel. The airline's website charged a total price for all travel services, so this created a customised travel package holiday.

Unfortunately, when Maria got to the hotel it was being done up and there were no rooms available. Maria has rights under package travel legislation. She can ask and get the airline to help her get accommodation at the same or a higher standard.

What are linked travel arrangements?

Linked travel arrangements (LTAs) are not considered a package holiday and different rules apply - see 'Rules for your travel contract and your rights' below. In fact, you have fewer rights with LTAs.

With an LTA, you buy 2 or more travel services from different companies under separate contracts but which are linked. For example, you book a flight on a website and you are then invited, through a targeted link, to book a hotel on a different website.

You make a linked travel arrangement if you:

Book and complete buying one travel service on one website
Are invited, through a targeted link, to 'click through' and to book a second service on another website.

Lucan ICA

Clair McBrearty RIP

We were all very sad to have lost a valued, long-time member Clair McBrearty RIP, who died on Friday 10th February. Clair served as a President, Secretary and International Officer over the years. She was always efficient in whatever task was in hand. Clair was a very intelligent and interesting person who loved her crosswords and quizzes. She could be relied on for the answers to do with the Royal family, actors in old films, musicals etc. Andrew Rieu being her favourite. Clair was a long-standing member of Maynooth and Dunboyne Flower club, participated in many competitions and was often a winner, any category except GAA! Clair always enjoyed her day trips away and especially weekends to An Grianan.

We shall miss Clair in the ICA but are grateful for the long and healthy life we were part of.

Pauline and Mary

ICA Notes:

NOT

By Erin Hanson

You are not your age
 Nor the size of the clothes you wear
 You are not a weight,
 Or the colour of your hair.
 You are not your name,
 Or the dimples in your cheeks.
 You are all the books you read
 And all the words you speak,
 You are your croaky morning voice,
 And the smiles you try to hide,
 You're the sweetest in your laughter,
 And every tear you've cried.
 You're the songs you sing so loudly,
 When you know you're all along,
 You're the places that you've been to,
 And the one that you call home.
 You're the things that you believe in,
 And the people that you love,
 You're the photos in your bedroom,
 And the future you dream of.
 You're made of so much beauty,
 But it seems that you forgot,
 When you decided that you were defined
 By all the things you're not.

Booking a Package Holiday continued...

Conclude the second contract on the second website within 24 hours of the first booking

When the second booking is made:

You must be told you are not booking a package and, therefore, you can claim insolvency protection only (protection that will cover you if your travel organiser goes out of business)

The second company must tell the first company that you have finished booking the second service

Example of protections when you have an LTA

Patrick books a flight to Helsinki directly with an airline (service 1). Shortly after receiving an email to confirm his flight, he gets an email with a targeted offer of a hotel in Helsinki. Patrick uses the link to book the hotel (service 2), and he does this within 24 hours after getting the email to confirm his flight booking.

Unfortunately, when in Helsinki, Patrick learns that the travel organiser for his flight has gone bankrupt. Patrick has rights under travel legislation to cover the cost of his flight home (service 1). These are covered under the airline's insolvency protection. But, the airline will not help Patrick if he has any issue with accommodation (service 2), as this is not a package holiday.

Rules for your travel contract and your rights Information you must get before you book

The travel organiser must give you all of the essential information about the holiday before you agree to the contract. There is comprehensive information about this topic, including insurance, on our website at

Package holidays and linked travel arrangements (citizensinformation.ie)

Tip: Remember that you cannot be forced to take out the travel organiser's insurance. Where insurance is optional, your travel organiser must give you information to help you to decide whether to insure or not, if they have this information.

Renewing your passport

How to renew an Irish passport as an adult (citizensinformation.ie)

How long will my passport renewal take?

Online renewals take around 10 working days to process.

If you are applying by post, you should allow at least 8 weeks for your application to be processed (not including postage times). This period may be extended at certain times of the year due to increased application numbers.

Check the Passport Service website for current processing times.

Post Passport from An Post

Paper based passport service from An Post
This application will take significantly longer than Passport Online. You should use Passport Online if you have travel plans within the next 3 months. The current estimated turnaround time is 8 weeks but this is not a service guarantee and you should not book flights until you have your passport.

To believe ....

...is to know that every day is a new beginning, miracles happen and dreams do come true.

To believe is to know that angels dance in the clouds, the sky is full of stardust, and the man in the moon is wise.

To believe is to know the value of a nurturing heart, the innocence of a child's eyes, and the beauty of an ageing hand, for it is through their teachings that we learn to love.

To believe is to find the strength and courage that lies within us for when it is time to pick up the pieces and begin again.

To believe is to know we are not alone, that life is a gift and this is our time to cherish it.

To believe is to know that wonderful surprises are waiting to happen and all our hopes and dreams are within reach...

..... if only we believe

12th Lock Masterplan – Update: At the February Council meeting held earlier this week, councillors received a detailed presentation on the development of 12th Lock Masterplan being progressed by the council. The plan itself is scheduled for completion by the end of January 2023. The development to this area will be very welcome, and I will continue to offer my own input during the various stages, for a future attractive visitor space for the people of Lucan and beyond, but that also to draw tourists and to promote active travel, whilst linking this project to other initiatives and cycling project schemes too. This will include extending the Greenway project, upgrading the pedestrian pathway as far as Hazelhatch bridge ahead of any development. The total investment is expected to be significant and in the region of €5.5m.

12th Lock Development: Plans for the development of the area at the 12th Lock on the Grand Canal were released at the February Council Meeting. The initial proposal includes a mixed use/enterprise centre, hostel, restaurant, public park, artist studios, kayaking club, creche and yoga studios. It seeks to transform the area while retaining the current buildings. South Dublin County Council will be co-operating with Waterways Ireland in the development of the area. The next step for the project will be looking at budgeting and phasing before it goes to planning and public consultation. There is a huge amount of potential in the canal as a natural amenity, but at the moment it's not really usable. The development here will bring the canal into use with water sports such as kayaking and SUP (Stand Up Paddleboard).

12th Lock Masterplan: a presentation was given to us at last Monday's full council meeting. I raised the need importance of ensuring community use plays major part in these plans, which is an issue I continue to campaign for. I also raised the necessity to include creches as I highlighted the demand for these services within the Lucan area. The next steps are as follows: Phasing programme, Budget analysis, Design team procurement, Part 8 (public consultation) Phase 1 Detailed Design & Construction

Grand Canal Greenway: The greenway upgrade along the canal heading towards Kildare is planned to be completed withing the next 12 months.

Footpath repairs: footpath repairs, one of the main issues raised with me, if you have an area that needs to be repaired do get in touch I will have the matter raised and included in future works.

Lucan News from 1961

Below is a cutting from a 1961 unidentified newspaper. In the South Dublin news section, it features a report on Lucan Sarsfields, and also on the death of Annie Byrne (right), from Mill Bank.

Annie's grandchildren live in Lucan to this day, among them – Triona Walsh and Stephen Byrne, who send us photos and interesting pieces from time to time!

Annie above, went into Hills Mill as a girl of 10 years – no talk of child labour back then. It was just the norm. Nor did she retire at 65 either!

Judging by the newspaper article, she was obviously held in very high esteem.

The other item of interest on the page was a report of Lucan Sarsfields matches, and by all accounts, the footballers were doing well back then, under the mentorship of Billie Malone and Billie Kelly, two great stalwarts of the club. The hurlers were also doing well at the time. In 1961, the club would have played their home matches in Langan's field, in behind the pub now known as The Foxhunter.

The hurlers actually won the Corn Céitinn, and we came across the list of those presented with their Corn Céitinn Medals in 1962.

Fonthill Road/St Loman's Road cycle lane

connection: The lack of connection between the Fonthill Road cycle lane and that on St Loman's Road/Liffey Valley/N4 slip road at the St Kevin's CC roundabout is something I've raised with SDCC. Unfortunately, there is no immediate and evident short-term solution, but the Council's active travel team are going to examine the junction to what can be done to complete the cycle lane.

Drains at Rosewood: Thanks to South Dublin County Council Drainage Section for responding to my request to repair the drains at Rosewood Grove last week. Thanks to the residents who raised it with me.

Ballyowen Castle Walking Group: Best wishes to the new Ballyowen Castle Walking Group who have started regular community walks every Wednesday at 7pm, meeting at Ballyowen Castle Community Centre. Try it out!

St. Mary's Camera Soirée

Last week we enjoyed looking at the photographs of the son of one of our members who is a dedicated member of one of the camera clubs in our general area. This week we are having another portrait workshop and will be in the capable hands of Donal. The plan is to go to the photographic exhibition currently on at Farmleigh next Friday.

There is a mixture of winter and spring in this week's photographs with Joe sending in photos of crocuses in Chalet Gardens, Conor submitting very atmospheric photos of the River Liffey on a misty morning and Josie managing to capture some photographs of the landscape around Westmanstown on that recent morning when we had a surprise frost.

Josie's photos prompted me to "Google" Westmanstown and see what came up. According to the Westmanstown Golf Club website I learned that the name, "Westmanstown" is first mentioned in records in 1821 and is believed to be a corruption of the name "Waspayle", a Norman family who were recorded in the area in the 16th century. Another website, which gives the Irish name of the townland as Baile An Bhaspailigh, led me to the National Archives where I discovered that according to the 1901 census there were 78 inhabitants in the townland and according to the census taken ten years later this number had risen to 157.

Even today the townland does not seem heavily populated. I was surprised to find that there is another townland called Westmanstown on the south side of the Liffey near Newcastle.

Until next week stay safe!
