Sunday 23rd July 2023

We all enjoy summer and good weather, and many of us journey abroad to ensure that we get our share of the sunshine of foreign parts. Sunspots attract tourists in their hundreds of thousands keen to wallow in the sunshine. This year however, we might find ourselves grateful for the climate that we enjoy here in rainy Ireland, and even content to enjoy it - despite the cloudbursts. Temperatures in the high thirties and even forties that are happening around the globe this summer, are perhaps more than we bargained for, and take us way beyond our comfort zone. The talk of global warming that we have been warned about these past years has begun to manifest itself as something all too real that poses a real and present danger.

In 2015, Pope Francis devoted an Encyclical letter – ‘Laudato Si’ to the subject of Care for our Common Home. The Letter is divided into six chapters each of which can be read in about 30 minutes; it is both insightful and challenging, and deserving of our attention.

“Chapter One: What is Happening to Our Common Home” summarizes the scope of current problems related to the environment. Issues discussed include pollution, climate change, water scarcity, loss of biodiversity, and global inequality.

“Chapter Two: The Gospel of Creation” draws on the Bible as a source of insight. The Genesis creation stories are interpreted as enjoining responsible cultivation and protection of nature. Past attempts to justify the absolute human domination of other species are “not a correct interpretation of the Bible” (LS 67). The natural world is further portrayed as a gift, a message, and a common inheritance of all people.

“Chapter Three: The Human Roots of the Ecological Crisis” explores social trends and ideologies that have caused environmental problems. These include the unreflective use of technology, an impulse to manipulate and control nature, a view of humans as separate from the environment, narrowly-focused economic theories, and moral relativism.

“Chapter Four: Integral Ecology” presents the encyclical’s main solution to ongoing social and environmental problems.

“Chapter Five: Lines of Approach and Action” applies the concept of integral ecology to political life. It calls for international agreements to protect the environment and assist low-income countries, new national and local policies, inclusive and transparent decision-making, and an economy ordered to the good of all.

Continued .....

Lastly, “Chapter Six: Ecological Education and Spirituality” concludes the encyclical with applications to personal life. It recommends a lifestyle focused less on consumerism and more on timeless, enduring values. It calls for environmental education, joy in one’s surroundings, civic love, reception of the sacraments, and an “ecological conversion” in which an encounter with Jesus leads to deeper communion with God, other people, and the world of nature.

Laudato Si is free to download from the Vatican website, or available to buy from Veritas, Mid Abbet Street and Blanchardstown. It should give us all pause for thought – and action!

From starvation to a degree in Mathematics

Letter received by John and Mary Coyne, who have just returned from Malawi:

"Am Mwayi Mtambo aged 18.

Am coming from a family of two children, both girls. I raised up with my grandparent due to my mother's illness since I was in standard six.

I attended my secondary Education at Luwanga secondary school where i got 15 points at MSCE exams. I applied for many courses from different Universities.

I appreciate you John and Mary Coyne for supporting me from one up to now. Lucky enough I have been selected to go to Chancellor College in Zomba district to study Bachelor of Education in Mathematics as a secondary teacher, of which it cost k350,000 per year. And it is a course for 4 years.

I thank Madam Florence for being with me in all My situations until I did all my best and finally got selected to start My tertiary education at Chancellor.

Birthday Remembrances

Ger Carey

22nd July

Late of Beech Park and Beaver St. Dublin 1.
Of our much loved son, brother, uncle and granduncle.

First Birthday Ger away from home.

As the song goes Ger

I held first, I loved you first

You were my first born

59 years ago

It does not take a special day

To bring you to our minds

A day without the thoughts of you

Is very hard to find

I hope Ger you are all together

Having a great time

Where all the rivers run free

Love you forever Ger

You are always in my heart

And forever on our minds

Miss you so much sweetheart

Until I get there

Mam, Dad, brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces and grandnephews and nieces. xxxxx

Jemmers Condron

Happy Heavenly Birthday to my loving husband Jemmers who would be 82yrs on Saturday 22nd of July.

(Philo) sons Paul and Jay, extended family.*

Joe McCahill

20th July 2023

14th Birthday away from home

No cards today, no presents either,

Oh how we wish we could see you on your special day.

Instead we will think of you in happier times,

When we were all together.

Instead we send a million hugs and kisses to our lovely Dad.

Always loved, always missed,
Never, ever forgotten.

Happy Birthday Dad.

Lucan Planning Council

LPC welcomes the news that South Dublin Co. Council has begun negotiations for the purchase of Lucan House and grounds to be used as a public amenity. This is wonderful news, LPC has always lobbied and worked for the protection of all Liffey Valley landscapes, especially in the Lucan catchment area. With the support of our local Councillors, Lucan Demesne was opened and St Edmundsbury is protected in the County Development Plans. The population of Lucan is now approaching 60,000 and growing fast, it is vital that the St Eds lands continue to be protected to meet the future recreational and sporting needs of the area.

The recent changes to the Lucan bus routes by The National Transport Authority, especially the discontinuation of the No. 25, 239 and Connolly Hospital services has caused serious inconvenience for many elderly residents. A new W4 bus service from Tallaght stops in some areas of Lucan but only goes to Blanchardstown Shopping Centre, a 30 minute walk from the Hospital. LPC has a plan that would restore these services but that NTA are not prepared to meet us face to face to discuss our proposals. We are currently asking residents to sign a petition to the NTA to meet us to discuss our plans for improving traffic and public transport in Lucan.

LPC is also concerned that S.D.C.C. has not disclosed its plans for alterations to the Lucan Village Green area that are due to begin shortly. To date no discussion has taken place with Lucan residents on the matter. Many locals are concerned that the unique character of our lovely village may be lost. LPC will support any changes that will make the village more attractive for locals and visitors. A pedestrian bridge from Main Street to The Green has been mentioned. The works should not commence until the Council reveals its plans and gets the approval of the local community. Nobody wants a repeat of the Village Park fiasco.

Esker Cemetery Sunday

The Annual Mass and Blessing of Graves will take place on Sunday 3rd September at 3pm

(Weather permitting)

Wet, Wet, Wet is July 2023!

At least we are not complaining about the heat like other parts of Europe and further afield. Let's count our blessings!

Below is a nursery rhyme from days of old:

Whether the weather be fine,
Or whether the weather be not,
Whether the weather be cold,
Or whether the weather be hot,
We'll weather the weather
Whatever the weather,
Whether we like it or not!

Brilliant Dubs! Despite all the wind and rain, our Boys in Blue didn't disappoint on Saturday last, and it must be said that Monaghan put up a great show – one to watch out for in the future.

Our Girls in Green! As we go to press, our Girls in Green are doing their bit in Sydney, against Australia. We have our contacts at this game, so looking forward to reports!

Hurling on Sunday! It doesn't feel right having the All Ireland Finals so early in the year, but I expect we'll get used to it like everything else. Good luck to Kilkenny and Limerick in the Hurling Final – looking forward to an exciting game!

The things you come across when looking for something else!

We're all familiar with rummaging through the cupboards, and coming up with what we now regard as little treasures. Such was the case when the above item saw the light of day once again.

Back in 2000/1, homes were issued with this clever little calculator to help us in our transition from Punts to Euros. This one is still working, and as you can see, €20 was the equivalent of £15.75.

Summer Holidays, 1950's style

Oh what a beautiful morning,
Oh what a beautiful day sang
I, as I sat in our back garden appreciating the wonder of nature, the greenness of our grass, the height of the sunflowers as they stretched higher than the garden wall, the roses in bloom displaying their petals in shades of white and yellow and the fuschia bush showing promise of a colourful display of blooms.

As I sat, I thought back on the garden of my childhood where cabbage, potatoes, lettuce and other vegetables were planted and nursed to grace our table and assist my father's weekly wage in providing for our family needs. The Ireland of the 1950's was a different entity to the Ireland we know today.
My father was a fitter with CIE, serving his apprenticeship in Broadstone Railway before Inchicore became the hub for CIE Railway works. A perk of being an employee of CIE

Railway was that you received special passes and reduced fares, known as privileges, for you and your family to travel. My father had a 2
week holiday
every year and it was then that our family took full advantage of the travel perks.

We became day-trippers, making journeys to Ireland's cities and towns using our passes and visiting beaches using our privileges.

Among the cities we visited were Galway, Cork, Waterford, Belfast, Sligo and Limerick. It was an early start for all of us, leaving our house to catch the 22 bus into Dublin around 7am and making our way to Kingsbridge (Heuston) Station if we were travelling to Cork, Limerick or Waterford, Amiens Street (Connolly) Station for Belfast or Drogheda and Westland Row (Pearse) Station for Galway, Mullingar or Athlone.

On these journeys we would wear our Sunday best and bring light refreshments for the train journey. We chatted, played games and window gazed out on the green fields, the cows, sheep grazing and the hinterland of Ireland. We ooh'd and aah'd as we crossed the Shannon in Athlone, marvelled at Donnelly's Hollow and the Devil's Bit, while we formed a sense of the Ireland that lay beyond our own home patch and parish.

The train journey that we looked forward to most of all was our visit to Auntie Madge in Enniscorthy. My Auntie Madge was a telegraphist with CIE and following postings in Kingsbridge and Ballinasloe Train Stations
she was sent to Enniscorthy. Here my Auntie Madge married a local man Kevin Sheehan and thus Enniscorthy became her forever home. We, the Kenny children, were delighted to have country cousins, thus our annual train journey and visit to Enniscorthy was the highlight of our summer holiday.

The Wexford train departed from Westland Row (Pearse) Station. We knew all the stations along the route, stopping first in Dun Laoghaire and then Bray before we got clearance to travel onwards through the tunnels to Greystones. The journey through all three tunnels was dark and scary but yet it was a highlight of our trip. We knew all the stations we passed through, becoming familiar with Avoca and the Meeting of the Waters. In those days we passed through Camolin and Ferns before arriving in Enniscorthy Station, where my cousins were waiting, like a guard of honour, to meet us.
My cousins are Anne, Gerard, Patricia, Mary, Delores, Martin, Finola, Terence, Gráinne and Sinéad. Then we walked up St Senan's Road to their house in the foothills of Vinegar Hill where Auntie Madge and Uncle Kevin and the hens waited to greet us.

Our seaside trips were when the privileges were used, these privileges allowed us travel for a reduced fare. Our favourite seaside was Claremont Strand, Howth. A different type of planning was needed for these excursions.

The night before we set out, sandwiches were made and bags were packed which included all the picnic requirements including cups, milk, tea and sugar. Then the swimming togs (describing 1950's swimming togs is best left to the imagination) and towels, a bat and ball, raincoats, calamine lotion and plasters were added and we were all set to go. Once again an early start was made, usually we arrived in Howth around 11am and headed for the beach intent on getting a good spot in the shelter of the sand dunes. We started with a dip in the sea, followed by our picnic which included sandy sandwiches and Marietta biscuits. On a point of information there was a hut on the beach where you could purchase a Teapot of boiling water for 6d (pence) and a deposit of 6d, the deposit was refunded when you returned the Teapot.

Rounders, Queenie Eye O and Red Rover were some of the games we played, while making sandcastles and burying feet in the sand were also part of our seaside adventure. Come 4 o'clock we were all rounded up and bags packed for our return journey to Dingle Road. Often we would walk down the Howth quayside to check the fishing boats, where my mother bought fresh fish straight from the fishermen, before boarding the train for Amiens St (Connolly) Station.

Pleasantly tired after our day at the seaside, is how I would describe the Kenny children, on our journey home. We knew we could look forward to more weekday adventures before my father's holiday was over and he returned to Inchicore works and the Wagon Shop.

Life is What You Make It

(across)

Is from the pen of Michael Moore, and is published in Pen to Paper, a collection from Lucan Creative Writers Group, who meet in Lucan Library.

Life is What You Make It

I've never had much luck in my life, I felt differently when I walked this character dressed in builder's overalls and headed in my direction. Without a second glance, he picked myself and two friends up and headed to the checkout. We were soon on our way to an old-style Georgian mansion.

My last outing was probably a few months ago when I was taken to a house where they were adding on an extension. When the chap went to fit me, he realised I was just a single light switch and not a double. I was put to one side and sat in his toolbox until, eventually, I was returned to the store for exchange for credit.

Today, I felt this was really my lucky day at last. Don't get me wrong; I was more than happy to sit on the shelf watching the world go by. But my expectations were high as we arrived at our destination. The house had wealth written all over it. My friend, the double switch, was soon wired up and ready for his permanent service in a large dining room – happiness is! The other double switch was headed for the master bedroom, with all its trimmings and breadth – taking views of the surrounding countryside – the lucky duck.

I was starting to get excited because I reckoned I was earmarked for the smaller bedroom, which had a beautiful ensuite. I thought to myself, "I could be happy here". But no, I was tucked into his pocket as we made our way down a dark corridor. We reached a door that opened to a flight of stairs. With the aid of a torch, we proceeded down the stairs to the basement. It was fairly packed with what looked like junk. Crestfallen, I was soon screwed to the wall and fully functioning, ready for what lay ahead.

Without dimensions, life can be a four-letter work. Like me – a switch – you go on and off, you live, you die. The dimension comes from what we do with the life we are given. And that is what makes the difference between life and living, I wanted to do so much in life, to plan, to experience, to do! I wanted to live.

Over the next few months, the basement too underwent major renovation and was transformed from a junk room to a study, where the owner retreated to read and write and get away from the turmoil of life. I knew then that my switch was not yet on – my real life was just beginning.

Do you have travel insurance?

You should get travel insurance for yourself and your family. If you have a travel insurance policy already, or travel insurance is included in your health insurance policy, you should check that you are covered for hospital treatment for COVID-19.

You should bring your European Health Insurance Card with you if you are travelling to the EEA or Switzerland. You cannot use your EHIC in the UK. But you can still get the healthcare you need. You will need to show your Irish passport to the GP or hospital. Make sure that it is in date, it must be renewed every 4 years and each family member needs their own. An EHIC does not replace travel insurance.

Ireland and Australia have a reciprocal health agreement. This means that Irish visitors to Australia will receive emergency services and assistance towards the cost of prescribed drugs and medicines on the same basis as persons ordinarily resident in Australia.

Irish citizens travelling in the UK are entitled to access healthcare through the Common Travel Area.

Driving abroad

If you plan to drive while abroad, make sure that your Irish driving licence is valid and that you bring it with you.

Some countries outside the European Economic Area (the member states of the European Union, Norway, Iceland and Liechtenstein) may require you to hold an International Driving Permit (IDP) in addition to your Irish driving licence.

See the IDP application form (pdf) for a full list of countries that recognise the permit.

Always make sure you are properly insured for driving while overseas.

Get more information on driving abroad from the Road Safety Authority.

While abroad

Make a note of the address, telephone number and opening hours of the Irish Embassy or Consulate in the country you are visiting. In countries where there is no Irish diplomatic or consular representation, you may seek emergency assistance from embassies or consulates of other European Union countries. On its website, the Department of Foreign Affairs provides advice on what to do to stay safe while abroad and what to do in an emergency.

Travel tips

These are some other tips to help with your journey.

Check if you need any vaccines or immunisations before you travel (At least 8 weeks in advance). Make a note of the 24-hour emergency number of your bank so you can cancel your credit card or debit card if it is stolen.

Check your mobile data allowance with your mobile phone service provider. (For travel outside of the EEA).

Do you need to bring a special adapter to plug in your electrical devices?

The Department of Foreign Affairs in Ireland provide travel advice to Irish people planning a trip overseas.

The HSE has information on preventing illness and infection while abroad.

The Health Protection Surveillance Centre provides advice for travellers on how to avoid illness on its website.

The World Health Organization has information and advice regarding health and international travel.

Hurling

The serious business of the season began this weekend with the opening rounds for the hurling championships and it was a very positive start for Lucan with two wins from two - the Seniors having a good win against champions Kilmacud Crokes and the Junior B's comprehensively beating Naomh Fionnbarra - see reports below. The Junior B's and Junior C's commence their campaigns this Monday evening away to St Finians and St Marks respectively. This will be the first time Lucan field a fifth adult team in the championship so a significant milestone for hurling in the club.

Senior Hurling Championship: Lucan Sarsfields 1-18 Kilmacud Crokes 2-11. O'Toole Park, Friday 14th July 2023

Lucan seniors had a positive opening to their championship campaign with this deserved win over defending champions Kilmacud Crokes. Playing against a strong breeze, Lucan started well and a goal from Ben Coffey in the 6th minute set them on their way. The game was tense and tight for most of the first half with scores hard to come by on both sides. Crokes got through for a goal in the 24th minute after a couple of great saves by Cillian Murray and several chances to clear the ball from the Lucan defence. This gave Crokes the lead and they held it by 2 points at the interval, 1-8 to 1-6. Four placed balls from Sean Harkness and well taken efforts from Kevin Fitzgerald and Colm Walsh accounted for the other Lucan scores.

Junior B Hurling Championship: Lucan Sarsfields 2-31 Naomh Fionnbarra 3-7. 12th Lock, Sunday 16th July 2023.

Lucan Junior A's had a very comprehensive win in their opening championship encounter. A sprightly Mick May was on fire early on putting over a string of points from distance and had 6 scored by half time. Killian Boylan got an early goal and a couple of points, as did Shane Donohue as Lucan had the game effectively won by half time, leading 2-16 to 0-4. The game got a little more scrappy in the second half as the pace dropped but Lucan remained in control with Peter Kelly calling the shots at centre back. Evan Lombard picked off some nice points as did Ciaran Keane to keep Lucan well ahead and always comfortable, despite a couple of late goals by the visitors. Lucan will face tougher tests ahead but will be pleased to have got the campaign off to a winning start.

Football

Lucan Sarsfields 2-9 v 0-17 Ballyfermot 11/07/23. AFL6 19.30. Ballyfermot

This was a dead rubber for Lucan. A final league fixture to be fulfilled. Maybe a chance to try a few things. Ballyfermot on the other hand, needed a victory to avoid relegation play off. To any neutral observer this would have sounded like the most rabid of championship games. There was a definite whiff of cordite. 30 players finished on the pitch. The only explanation is that the ref forgot his cards. Both teams were very fortunate to finish with their full complement. Flailing elbows, kicking (bodies not balls), sliding tackles, trips, and don't get me started about the verbals!! Lucan lost, in the end. A game they really should have won, but a whole raft of positives to be taken. They do say you learn most from your defeats. Hopefully that proves to be the case.

LUCAN HARRIERS A.C.

New National Champion in Harriers

Lucan Harriers have a new National Champion and a new National Record holder in the weight throw (heavy hammer) set by Katriona Power on Saturday at The Morton Stadium in Santry.

The previous National Record was 10.32 metres, but Katriona beat that in style with each one of her throws, and the best of the lot was her 11.58m throw which was by far the best of the day, and the best ever thrown in the age category in Ireland! Getting better with age. Well done young lady.

Harriers wearing the Green Vest: Brilliant news also came from Dunkerque in France with Izzy Cuffe, wearing the Green Vest finishing a fantastic 2nd in the FISEC Games 1500m with Ireland sweeping the podium! A wonderful achievement for this young Lucan Harriers Athlete. Everyone at the club is very proud of you. Also coming from the same group in the club a big congratulations to Saoirse Fitzgerald who has been selected to represent Ireland at the European Youth Olympics in Maribor, Slovenia from the 24th to 29th of July. Saoirse will compete in the 800m and medley relay. The Medley Relay is 100m, 200m, 300m, 400m. Watch this space and Lucan Harriers Social Media over the next few weeks for updates. Lucan Harriers has really made its mark on the national teams over the last few years, long may it last and wishing continued success to all our club members in the green vest.

Annual 5 K Summer Championship: We had our annual summer Club championship in Griffeen Park last Tuesday the 11th July. Three loops of the park covering a 5k course. Well done to our 2 winners of our 2023 club championships Dylan Wright in an remarkable time of 16.11 and the wonderful Anne Whelan in a very impressive winning time of 21.49. Great to see so many Lucan Harriers turning up to race, cheer, steward, photograph and make the evening a huge success. A special thank you to Damien O Sullivian, men's Captain for organising who along with Sinead Farrell also arranged post-race refreshments. This Tuesday we have our handicap race, last over the line last Tuesday goes off first. So Dylan and Anne will be the last to go in their respective race.

Endurance Racing: On Sunday 9th July our endurance athletes were at it again in Grey Abbey Co. Down at a 6hr Endurance event. 2 Lucan Harriers in action Ellie O Neill and Jer O Sullivan. Elle O Neill describes the event, "This was a trail race with a loop of 5.5km. I had hoped to run 50km, but I had greatly underestimated the terrain and mud!!!! I had to work hard, but I clocked 8 loops in under 6 hours, 45.2km. So delighted with the marathon. Unexpectedly I found another Lucan Harrier in the starting lineup, Jer, so the club was well represented. Beautiful day, a warm welcome, exciting course, kept me on my toes.....Need a new pair of trail runners, mine have holes in" Senior Men's Jer O Sullivan also completed 8 very tough loops of this rough terrain. Well done guys!

Leinster Championship: Medals for the recent Leinster Championships were presented to Colin O Gara 800m and James Crowley 5000m, medals were unfortunately unavailable on the day in Carlow at the end of May.

Fiat Lucan Harriers 5 mile race Sunday 3rd September: Preparation for our 5-mile race continues and entries are now picking up, over 150 entered already. We have had great interest in the couch25mile initiative. With over 35 people signing up for this so far, entries still open fthis. For €50 you get race entry, a race tee, a summer training programme on the track on Monday and Thursday and Lucan Harriers membership until 31st Dec 2023. It's fantastic value, not surprising we have had great interest. You can preregister for this or turn up on the night and ask for Vinny or John. Further details on the Lucan Harriers website and social media channels, also see myrunresults.

Castlegate Park – Playground:

The playground in Castlegate Park has fallen into poor condition, with the play surface in need of repair. Furthermore, residents have contacted me on several occasions regarding damage to play activities. I am requesting that the Council carry out an inspection with consideration for substantive upgrades.

Adamstown – Raised Paths:

The condition of paths generally in Adamstown is giving rise to concern, with numerous locations now experiencing raised, loose, and missing cobble block. These represent serious trip hazards. I have requested that the Council give an undertaking to conduct a detailed survey of all areas within their charge.

Sarsfield Park – SF Door Survey:

The local Sinn Féin team and I are in Sarsfield Park this weekend to conduct a consultation in respect of the Council's proposed 'Age-Friendly Housing Development'. This will help to inform our survey to officials, based upon the direct feedback from residents.

To report a derelict site to SDCC, contact the Enforcement and Licensing Section by email at info@sdblincoco.ie or by telephone at 01 4149000.

APP Fraud:

Scammers trick people into willingly transferring money to them, in a scenario where you willingly provide your bank/card details, refunds are not protected by the EU's PSD2 directive. This type of scam is increasing because it's easier to get you to make a transfer than hack your account. Action is needed to protect victims, as demonstrated by the €16.8m cost of this fraud in 2021 to victims.

St. Mary's Camera Soirée

Because of the terrible weather last week there was very little opportunity to get out and take photographs. Up until the last minute I feared that for the first time since the work of the Camera Soiree began to appear on the back of the Newsletter there would not be sufficient photographs for this week.

In response to my appeal Donal had to resort to submitting some more macro-photos from his visit to the Victory Garden in Balbriggan the previous week.

Joe submitted a couple more from his trip to Lake Garda including one that some members of the group believe is Joe paragliding! Despite not using an engine, paraglider flights can last many hours and cover many hundreds of kilometres. Joe also submitted a photo taken in Malcesine, which is a commune on the eastern shores of Lake Garda.

At the last minute Paddy came to the rescue with lovely photographs taken along the Strawberry Beds, in Kilcock and in Maynooth. We are all delighted to have Paddy active again in photography after an enforced absence of many months.

Finally, apropos of nothing at all to do with photography does anybody else think that our trees, bushes and shrubs are looking quite stressed because of the weather this year. I think the foliage of the chestnut trees in the grounds of the Italian Embassy is looking particularly sad.

Stay safe until next week!
